Gen. White's Men Encountered Them In Natal.

A TRAIN DESTROYED BY BOERS.

One Report Said Fifteen Men of the English Force on the Armored Train Were Killed - An American Citizen Abused by Free State Burghers.

LONDON, Oct. 14. - An Edinburgh paper, The Scotsman, this morning, asserted that a battle has taken place between General Sir George Stewart White, commanding the forces in Natal, and the Boers, who entered Natal by way of Van Reenans pass. General White, The Scotsman says, is very sanguine of the success of the British movement.

The foregoing report is considered to be correct, as late last night the war office had news of a British advance from Ladysmith and was hourly expecting further intelligence.

A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from its correspondent at Ladysmith, dated at noon on Friday, says:

"A strong moble column, under General Sir George Stewart White, accompanied by General Sir Archibald Hunter, proceeded before daybreak this morning toward Acton Homes for the purpose of reconnoitering. General White's object was to observe what was going on and also to test the nobility and efficiency of his forces. All the men are well, and the weather is now

The Daily Mail's Cape Town correspondent, telegraphing Friday evening, said: "I learn on good authority that the Boers are attacking Mafeking. They are reported to have already suffered several repulses. It is generally admitted that Vryburg cannot stand a strong Boer attack.

According to The Daily Mail's Cape Town correspondent, Mr. Schreiner, premier of Cape Colony, will unreservedly support the imperial government. His previous reserve was dictated by a desire not to drive the extreme Dutch residents to excesses.

Evart Grobier, member of the volksraad for Philipopolis, has been elected commandant general of the Free State forces. He is only 35 years of age, is well educated and was Free State delegate to the Chicago exhibition.

The Prince of Wales promised to see

General Redvers Buller and staff off from the Waterloo station today.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Evening News published the following dispatch from Cape Town:

"An armored train has been destroyed south of Mafeking. Fifteen British troops were killed. The Boers shelled the wreckage after the train was derailed.

The entire crew of the armored train, with the exception of the engine driver, were made prisoners by the Boers.

An earlier dispatch from Vryburg announced that the Boers had advanced to the railway and cut the telegraph wires. It was estimated that 2,000 Burghers then held the railroad.

The cabinet met in council and pubhe interest in the session was very keen. Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain, with other popular favorites, were cheered rs they arrived.

Although the latest phase in the situation in South Africa was considered, the principal business was to arrange respecting the text of the queen's speech on the reassembling of parliament next Tuesday, and other prelim-

A dispatch from Cape Town says that no doubt is felt as to the loyalty of Lerothodi and other native chiefs, and the Basutes were well in hand, but the resident commissioner had decided to patrol the border in order to prevent raids. A later dispatch to The Evening News says the armored train was attempting to run through the Boers.

London, Oct. 14.—At New Brighton, at a public meeting, a letter was read from Rudyard Kipling, in which he said in part:

"I need not say I am entirely in sympathy with the object of the meeting, and realize our country's obligation at this crisis to support her majesty's government unreservedly Their demand, I take it to be, is for equal rights for all white men from the Cape to the Zambesi; their aim, the establishment of a republic instead of an oligarchy and their vindication, a new and regenerate | smallpox.

rransvaai, governed under equal laws formed in open council by free men, neither corrupted nor coerced, representing every interest in the land. These things are good and desirable and I recognize that it is the duty of each one of us, according to his abilities, to work toward their attainment."

CAPE Town, Oct. 12.—(Delayed in transmission.)—No news of fighting has yet been received.

It is suggested that with a view of retaining the good will of the Basutes the authorities snall not press for payment of the hut tax.

An American citizen has sworn to an affidavit before the American consul here, in which he states that he has been subjected by Burghers of the Free State to great ill-treatment. His limbs bear marks showing the effects of the treatment he has received.

PRETORIA, Oct. 12.—(Delayed in transmission.)-There was no further news from General Cronje's western commando. Commandant General Joubert's commando was at Volksrust. Several Cape Colonists were sworn in as Burghers.

The minister of mines reported that satisfactory number of mines are being worked, and that the government will keep the shatts of abandoned mines free of water in the interest of shareholders.

It was reported that 46 cases of gold valued at £500,000, which were discovered in different canteens in Johannesburg, were confiscated by the govern-

Commandant General Joubert issued a circular from the chief laager in consequence of the report that some of the Burghers had misbehaved themselves on their journey to the borders, plundering a number of stores. Such offenses, the commandant general said, would be severely punished.

"When we are unwillingly com-pelled to cross the boundary line of our country," said General Joubert, "let it not be thought that we are a band of Obbers, and with that in view, remain as far as possible from private dwellings and from places where no enemy is stationed. When food or forage for the cattle is needed, let certain officers acquire such goods from the owner, and let a receipt be given with promise of recompense by the government."

The Volkstein said: "Two small republics have entered upon a struggle with a gigantic power which wishes to crush them. Conquer or die is the battle cry of the brave Burghers. Thus will the question be solved and the republics once for all will either be treed from British provocation or will have to bend their necks to the yokes of British tyranny. England's might will not decide the issue. That remains with God alone."

PRETORIA, Oct. 12, via Lorenzo Marques, Oct. 14.—An official manifesto has been addressed to Afrikanders throughout South Africa appealing to them to resist "the unjust demands of Great Britain," and accusing Lord Salisbury, Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Alfred Milner of treachery. It blames the queen for condoning what it describes as "Mr. Chamberlain's criminal policy," and declares that "the clear desire and object of Great Britain are to deprive the Transvaal of independence on account of the gold mines of the Rand "

BLOEMFONTEIN, Oct. 12. — (Delayed in transmission.)-Martial law has been proclaimed and the courts are closed.

A proclamation has been issued warning British subjects to leave the Orange Free State before 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Permits to remain may be obtained from the authorities and the proclamation calls on the Burghers to respect those who secure such permits.

President Steyn has made a strong appeal to the Burghers to do their best to preserve the independence of the Major Cheatham reports that he drove the rebels from their position, and that in the engagement three Americans were killed and two were wounded. Rumors are in circulation in Manila that Major Cheatham discovered three American prisoners, who had been bound, gagged and shot by the insurgents. These rumors, however, are not confirmed.

One Sandago, a lieutenant of the native police, was arrested and lodged in jail, his subordinate having reported to the authorities that he was endeavoring to enlist them in a plot to turn the police against the Americans in the event of an uprising.

Reports having reached the provost marsnal that arms were concealed at the headquarters of the Dominican friars, a large building adjoining the palace, a detachment of soldiers made a search of the building. They found a small stock of Mausers, revolvers and ammunition, which was confiscated despite the protests of the friars that the arms were not intended for unlawful

General Schwan, with the infantry, reached Bacoor. The troops were greatly exhausted, having had one of the hardest marches of the campaign. From Malabon to Perez Das Marinas, they marched through roadless rice fields. The Fourth infantry, from Imus, joined General Schwan, at Perez Das Marinas. The Filipinos had deserted the town upon learning of the approach of the Americans, leaving only the women and children behind.

Two strong shocks of earthquake, lasting several seconds, were felt in Manila about 10 o'clock last evening.

Boyle and Randolph refused to allow the State team to continue and the officials declared the game off. Train Robbed Not Far From De Kalb.

THE EXPRESS CAR DEMOLISHED.

Bandits Then Dynamited the Safe-First Bound and Gagged Station Agent and Then Signaled the Train-Amount Secured Was Unknown.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.-A Northwestern limited train was held up not far from DeKalb, Ilis., and robbed. The holdup occurred at tower W, three miles from Maple Park, Ills. It not known whether the robbers secured any great amount of booty.

It is said there were five masked men engaged in the operation.

About 20 minutes before the train was due at Maple Park the robbers burst into the station house and bound and gagged the agent. They then changed the signals which stopped the train. As soon as it came to a halt two of the men covered the engineer and fireman with revolvers, and, after uncoupling the eugine, compelled the engineer to run it down the track about two miles.

They then blew up the express car with dynamite, practically demolishing it. It is not known how much money was secured. Immediately after grabbing what they could, the robbers fled. They are now being pursued, but the robbers have quite a lead over the posse that is after them.

SHOTS FOR ROBBERS.

Officers Lay In Wait For Bandits-Attempt on a Bank Fatal - Two Wounded and One Suicides.

SEVIERVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 14.-An attempt by three masked men to rob the Sevierville bank resulted disastrously for all of them. William Derrick killed himself, William Thurmer fatally wounded and Cal Derrick slightly

Officers of this place, who had been warned that an attempt would be made to rob the bank by three desperadoes, had secreted themselves in a building opposite the bank, and when the outlaws fired into the bank they were promptly answered by a fusilande. Thurner, the leader of the robbers, dropped to the ground mortally wounded. Cal Derrick fell seriously wounded. The third man, William Derrick, fled.

For about a mile and a half he ran in front of a fierce fire from the pursuing officers. He entered an open door of a barn and his place of refuge was quickly surrounded. Realizing that the odds were against him, he stepped out in plain view of all, saluted the sheriff, and crying "goodby, boys," placed his pistol to his head and blew out his brains.

Thurmer can hardly survive. Thurmer is an ex-convict who had been pardoned while serving a life sentence for the murder of a Knoxville policeman. Bill Derrick, the suicide, was a desperate mountain characte who had just returned from the west.

Cal Derrick, who was wounded, was thought to be a respectable, peaceable man. He was a Knoxville liveryman and was married.

WEAK SPOTS IN INGHAM'S STORY

Newitt's Straightforward Testimony Apparently Had Effect on Jury.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Former U. S. District Attorney Ingham continued his testimony in the trial here of him and Newitt. He declared that the code he and Kendig used was for the purpose of preventing a detective named Downey, hired by Kendig, from finding out that another detective was to be hired, Kendig fearing Downey would, turn against him.

District Attorney Beck succeeded in forcing Mr. Ingham to admit that he would utter an untruth if the exigencies of the case required it. Mr. Ingnam played for sympathy by referring to his long acquaintance with Mr. Beck.

Harvey K. Newitt told of his alleged dealings with Secret Service Agent Mc-Manus. His apparently frank manner had a marked impression on the jury. He declared that McManus' testimony was absolutely false.

Gen. White's Men Encountered Them In Natal.

A TRAIN DESTROYED BY BOERS.

One Report Said Fifteen Men of the English Force on the Armored Train Were Killed - An American Citizen Abused by Free State Burghers.

London, Oct. 14. - An Edinburgh paper, The Scotsman, this morning, asserted that a battle has taken place between General Sir George Stewart White, commanding the forces in Natal, and the Boers, who entered Natal by way of Van Reenans pass. General White, The Scotsman says, is very sanguine of the success of the British movement.

The foregoing report is considered to be correct, as late last night the war office had news of a British advance from Ladysmith and was hourly expecting further intelligence.

A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from its correspondent at Ladysmith, dated at noon on Friday, says:

"A strong moble column, under General Sir George Stewart White, accompanied by General Sir Archibald Hunter, proceeded before daybreak this morning toward Acton Homes for the purpose of reconnoitering. General White's object was to observe what was going on and also to test the nobility and efficiency of his forces. All the men are well, and the weather is now

The Daily Mail's Cape Town correspondent, telegraphing Friday evening, said: "I learn on good authority that the Boers are attacking Mafeking. They are reported to have already suffered several repulses. It is generally admitted that Vryburg cannot stand a strong

According to The Daily Mail's Cape Town correspondent, Mr. Schreiner, premier of Cape Colony, will unreservedly support the imperial government. His previous reserve was dictated by a desire not to drive the extreme Dutch residents to excesses.

Evart Grobier, member of the volksraad for Philipopolis, has been elected commandant general of the Free State forces. He is only 35 years of age, is well educated and was Free State delegate to the Chicago exhibition.

The Prince of Wales promised to see General Redvers Buller and staff off from the Waterloo station today.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Evening News published the following dispatch from Cape Town:

"An armored train has been destroyed south of Mafeking. Fifteen British troops were killed. The Boers shelled the wreckage after the train was derailed.

The entire crew of the armored train, with the exception of the engine driver, were made prisoners by the Boers.

An earlier dispatch from Vryburg announced that the Boers had advanced to the railway and cut the telegraph wires. It was estimated that 2,000 Burghers then held the railroad.

The cabinet met in council and publie interest in the session was very keen. Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain, with other popular favorites, were cheered rs they arrived.

Although the latest phase in the situation in South Africa was considered, the principal business was to arrange respecting the text of the queen's speech on the reassembling of parliament next Tuesday, and other prelim-

A dispatch from Cape Town says that no doubt is felt as to the loyalty of Lerothodi and other native chiefs, and the Basutes were well in hand, but the resident commissioner had decided to patrol the border in order to prevent raids. A later dispatch to The Evening News says the armored train was attempting to run through the Boers. London, Oct. 14.—At New Brighton, at a public meeting, a letter was read from Rudyard Kipling, in which he said in part: "I need not say I am entirely in sympathy with the object of the meeting, and realize our country's obligation at this crisis to support her majesty's government unreservedly Their demand, I take it to be, is for equal rights for all white men from the Cape to the Zambesi; their aim, the establishment of a republic instead of an oligarchy and their vindication, a new and regenerate | smallpox.

It is suggested that with a view of retaining the good will of the Basutes the authorities snall not press for payment of the nut tax.

The minister of mines reported that satisfactory number of mines are being worked, and that the government will keep the shatts of abandoned mines free of water in the interest of shareholders.

Commandant General Joubert issued s circular from the chief laager in consequence of the report that some of the Burghers had misbehaved themselves on their journey to the borders, plundering a number of stores. Such offenses, the commandant general said, would be severely punished.

"When we are unwillingly compelled to cross the boundary line of our country," said General Joubert, "let it not be thought that we are a band of cobbers, and with that in view, remain as far as possible from private dwellings and from places where no enemy is stationed. When food or forage for the cattle is needed, let certain officers acquire such goods from the owner, and let a receipt be given with promise of recompense by the government."

The Volkstein said: "Two small republics have entered upon a struggle with a gigantic power which wishes to crush them. Conquer or die is the battle cry of the brave Burghers. Thus will the question be solved and the republics once for all will either be treed rom British provocation or will have to bend their necks to the yokes of British tyranny. England's might will not decide the issue. That remains with God alone.'

PRETORIA, Oct. 12, via Lorenzo Marques, Oct. 14.—An official manifesto has been addressed to Afrikanders throughout South Africa appealing to them to resist "the unjust demands of Great Britain," and accusing Lord Salisbury, Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Alfred Milner of treachery. It blames tne queen for condoning what it describes as "Mr. Chamberlain's criminal policy," and declares that "the clear desire and object of Great Britain are to deprive the Transvaal of independence on account of the gold mines of MANILA, Oct. 14.-Major Cheatham, with a scouting party, while proceeding along the west shore of the lake encountered a force of rebels strongly entrenched at Muntinlupa. Major Cheatham reports that he drove the rebels from their position, and that in the engagement three Americans were killed and two were wounded. Rumors are in circulation in Manila that Major Cheatham discovered three American prisoners, who had been bound, gagged and shot by the insurgents. These rumors, however, are not confirmed.

One Sandago, a lieutenant of the native police, was arrested and lodged in jail, his subordinate having reported to the authorities that he was endeavoring to enlist them in a plot to turn the police against the Americans in the event of an uprising.

Reports having reached the provost marshal that arms were concealed at the headquarters of the Dominican friars, a large building adjoining the palace, a detachment of soldiers made a search of the building. They found a small stock of Mausers, revolvers and ammunition, which was confiscated despite the protests of the friars that the arms were not intended for unlawful

General Schwan, with the infantry, reached Bacoor. The troops were greatly exhausted, having had one of the hardest marches of the campaign. From Malabon to Perez Das Marinas, they marched through roadless rice fields. The Fourth infantry, from Imus, joined General Schwan, at Perez Das Marinas. The Filipinos had deserted the town upon learning of the approach of the Americans, leaving only the women and children behind.

Two strong shocks of earthquake, lasting several seconds, were felt in Manila about 10 o'clock last evening.

And the Case Was Dismissed -- Another Fight Occurred In the Klondike District--Items of Interest About East End People and Happenings.

An echo of one of the three rows in the East End this week was heard in Justice Rose's office this morning. Two of the rows took place in the Klondike and this one in Dixonville Wednesday night. It was caused by children engaging in a stone throwing fight. Joseph J. Douglass says he started in to act as peacemaker but was swiped in the face and as a result he entered suit for assault against Laura Dobbs.

Five witnesses were summoned for the state and three for the defense. Douglass's witnesses were Eliza Douglass, Ida, Ella, John and R. H. Fetty. Those for the defense were Ray Pinkerton, Christina McDonald and Basta Dobbs. The testimony was voluminous and contradictory.

After summing up the testimony Squire Rose decided there was not sufficient evidence to bind the defendant to court and he dismissed the case, with costs against the plaintiff.

For the Pottery to Be Built In Chester.

BUILDING TO BE ONE STORY

Chester Rolling Mill Company Unearthed a Political Game In Giving Men Employment--Railroad Company to Build Iron Bridges Over Second and Third Streets-- News of Chester and Vicinity.

This morning J. G. Lee, W. L.Smith, John N. Taylor, Engineer Charles Kelly and Architect Fritz spent several hours on the Marks farm, where the new pottery will be erected. The gentlemen intended to take the level of the ground and stake off the foundation, but this was found to be impossible on account of the high weeds. This afternoon a number of men were put to work mowing the field, and it is very probable the work will be finished so the ground can be staked off Monday morning.

The pottery will be a one story building 400x160 feet. The four biscuit kilns will be 18 feet in diameter while five glost kilns will be 161/2 feet.

Engineer Hutchison, of the Pennsylvania railroad, today visited the new factory site and took some data relative to the extending of the railroad as was stated in this paper last week.

A DEMOCRATIC SCHEME.

Pa. Politicians to Receive Votes. Promise Jobs at the Chester Mill.

'The Chester Rolling Mill company has unearthed a scheme that is being worked by some Pennsylvania politicians in promising positions to men at the local mill, provided they would vote for them. Treasurer Voegtley, of the mill company, has received a number of letters from a Democratic politician of the man's name mentioned in the letter as an aspirant for a position in the mill, and anything that would be done would be appreciated by the undersigned. Voegtley is a strong Republican, and he is not pleased with the scheme. The only person who has the power to promise positions is Mr. Bergman who is now in New Kensington. The letters are being kept, but it is evident none of them will ever be answered.

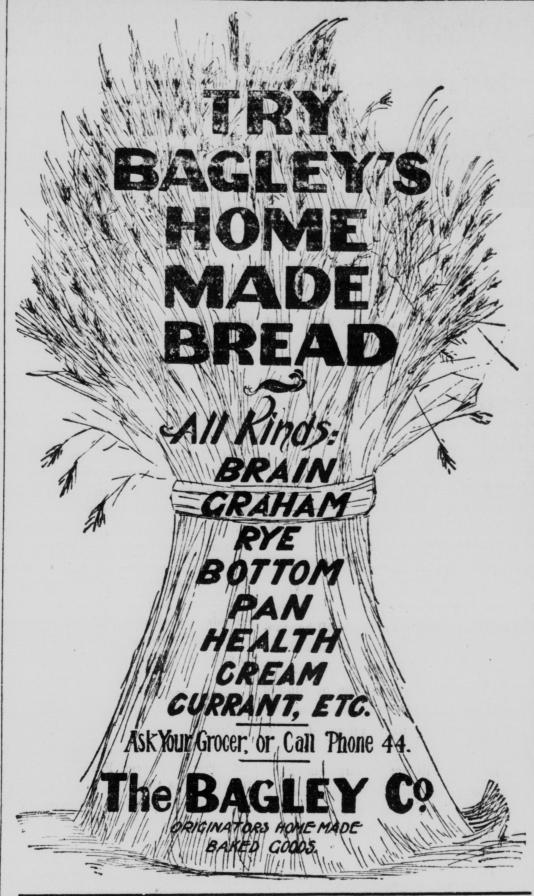

TWO BRIDGES.

Railroad Company Will Bridge Second and Third Streets In Chester.

Engineer McConnell yesterday surweyed the ground at the intersection of Second and Third streets and the railroad. The company will build iron bridges over the railroad at these streets and the county will be put to no expense as was first thought.

The work of laying rails on the extension will be resumed next week. This has been delayed during the month on account of the track men being put to work on the main line placing it in first-class order before the annual inspection. The grading at the narrows is nearing completion and it will not be many weeks now before the entire road is finished.

The local football team had a notion that they would like to sign Slab Burns, of Steubenville, to play with their team and the manager wrote him a letter. He received a reply yesterday, and as Burns only wants $200 to finish the son here it is probable he will not be signed, for the local team would consider themselves lucky if they only had half of $200.

The gentlemen intended to take the level of the ground and stake off the foundation. but this was found to be impossible on account of the high weeds. This afternoon a number of men were put to work mowing the field, and it is very probable the work will be finished so the ground can be staked off Monday morning.

The pottery will be a one story building 400x160 feet. The four biscuit kilns will be 18 feet in diameter while five glost kilns will be 16½ feet.

THEY should move that yacht race to Kansas as a cyclone preventer.

THE local Democracy are beginning to fear that Columbiana county may have been torn off McLean's map of the state.

GREAT meteoric displays are scheduled for November 12. John R. McLean will have a private view of all the stars in the firmament five days earlier.

It is reported from Lisbon that Potts, of the Patriot, and Aguinaldo are to be rivals in the race for the Democratic nomination for land appraiser in Center

SINCE the Eighteenth Democracy cannot find a Democrat able to beat Tayler for congress they're anxious to have some Republican nominated whom they think they can beat.

'TIS A PITY.

'Tis a pity that the anti-spit ordinance did not embrace the prohibiting of expectorating upon the sidewalks or pavements of the city, and the heaviest kind of a penalty should be inflicted, by ordinance, upon the fiend who becomes the fiend who

throws banana peelings upon the side-

LOYAL FOR ONCE.

The Buffalo Commercial truthfully and tritely says: "John R. McLean's Cincinnati Enquirer is loyal to the Democratic party this year because John R. is at the head of both newspaper and A VERY ENTHUSIASTIC SESSION ticket. This is a coincidence that never happened before and will probably never happen again. It is a phenomenon that naturally excites attention and amusement in Ohio."

GROWTH SHOWN.

The poll of the new Fifth ward shows in a striking manner the tremendous growth of the East End district within the past few years. Even those most intimately acquaintanced with that portion of the city thought that in the creation of the new ward only one precinct would be required. It now appears that the Democratic poll records a vote of 404 in that district. As 500 votes entitles a ward to two precincts, it will probably require the establishment of another precinct in the East End before the spring city elections.

FOUR GRAND JURIES.

The grand juries of four counties, Columbiana, Stark, Carroll and Mahoning counties, in session for the October term, seem to have devoted unusual attention to violators of the liquor laws Many indictments against saloonkeepers were returned in each county. Stark sentences violators to a fine of $50 and costs and 10 days in the workhouse. Columbiana has sentenced one to a fine of $35 and 10 days in the county jail Mahoning imposes a fine according to circumstances adduced. Carroll county, where Judge Taylor presides, inflicts a heavy fine. The combination of fine and imprisonment seems to fit the case most closely, and, if anything, the imposition of the limit in the way of a workhouse sentence is preferable in its effects to the limit in a fine. Fines don't worry the average saloonkeeper much. Familiarity has bred contempt. Familiarity with the interior of a workhouse cell may have a more salutary ef fect as far as restraining future violations is concerned.

Slot Machine Indictments.

Mahoning county grand jury returned 78 indictments, 64 of which were against saloonkeepers who operated slot machines. The saloonkeepers have announced that they will form a combination to fight the cases, in hopes of clogging the machinery of the courts.

L. C. HOOPES, short term.

The local Democracy are beginning to fear that Columbiana county may have been torn off McLean's map of the state.

GREAT meteoric displays are scheduled for November 12. John R. McLean will have a private view of all the stars in the firmament five days earlier.

It is reported from Lisbon that Potts, of the Patriot, and Aguinaldo are to be rivals in the race for the Democratic nomination for land appraiser in Center township.

SINCE the Eighteenth Democracy cannot find a Democrat able to beat Tayler for congress they're anxious to have some Republican nominated whom they think they can beat.

'TIS A PITY.

'Tis a pity that the anti-spit ordinance did not embrace the prohibiting of expectorating upon the sidewalks or pavements of the city, and the heaviest kind of a penalty should be inflicted, by ordinance, upon the fiend who

throws banana peelings upon the side-

LOYAL FOR ONCE.

The Buffalo Commercial truthfully and tritely says: "John R. McLean's Cincinnati Enquirer is loyal to the Democratic party this year because John R. is at the head of both newspaper and ticket. This is a coincidence that never happened before and will probably never happen again. It is a phenomenon that naturally excites attention and amusement in Ohio."

GROWTH SHOWN.

The poll of the new Fifth ward shows in a striking manner the tremendous growth of the East End district within the past few years. Even those most intimately acquaintanced with that portion of the city thought that in the creation of the new ward only one precinct would be required. It now appears that the Democratic poll records a vote of 404 in that district. As 500 votes entitles a ward to two precincts, it will probably require the establishment of another precinct in the East End before the spring city elections.

FOUR GRAND JURIES.

The grand juries of four counties, Columbiana, Stark, Carroll and Mahoning counties, in session for the October term, seem to have devoted unusual attention to violators of the liquor laws Many indictments against saloonkeepers were returned in each county. Stark sentences violators to a fine of $50 and costs and 10 days in the workhouse. Columbiana has sentenced one to a fine of $35 and 10 days in the county jail Mahoning imposes a fine according to circumstances adduced. Carroll county, where Judge Taylor presides, inflicts a heavy fine. The combination of fine and imprisonment seems to fit the case most closely, and, if anything, the imposition of the limit in the way of a workhouse sentence is preferable in its effects to the limit in a fine. Fines don't worry the average saloonkeeper much. Familiarity has bred contempt. Familiarity with the interior of a workhouse cell may have a more salutary ef fect as far as restraining future violations is concerned.

Slot Machine Indictments.

Mahoning county grand jury returned 78 indictments, 64 of which were against saloonkeepers who operated slot machines. The saloonkeepers have announced that they will form a combination to fight the cases, in hopes of clogging the machinery of the courts.

THE DEMOCRATS

Met at City Hall and Nominated a Candidate For Land Appraiser.

The Democratic committee met last evening at city hall and nominated John Kerr as a candidate for land appraiser. Major C. C. He said several other cities had organized companies and were waiting for the place of Company E, but that he would rather have a company in East Liverpool than in any city in the district.

President McKinley Welcomed by Colored Men.

INCIDENT OF HIS WESTERN TRIP.

Went Out of His Way to Accept the Invitation to Attend Quinn Chapel a.d Talk to His Colored Fellow-Citizens. What the President Said and How His Remarks Were Received.

An effort is being made through Mr. McLean's newspaper to convince the colored voters of Ohio that President McKinley has not been friendly to them.

When has an American president ever shown the thorough appreciation of his colored fellow-citizens which was manifested by President McKinley last Sunday in Chicago? The president had been greeted with an ovation in the magnificent auditorium which is probably the finest hall in America. When he returned to his hotel he was called upon by a delegation from the Men's Sunday club of Quinn chapel, an organization of representative colored men, and accepted their invitation to address them. He was driven at once to the chapel. In his party were Bishops Fallows and Arnett and Rev. A. J. Carey, pastor of Quinn chapel, and

The audience greeted his entrance by rising and singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." The president was introduced by Rev. Dr. Carey, who said in part:

Dear Christian friends, you can appreclate the fact that the president of the greatest nation on earth, with its vast population of 72,000,000 souls and its unbounded territory stretching from the virgin soil of the Occident to the far-away lands of the Orient, has comparatively no time that he may truly call his own. For this reason we feel more than honored because of the fact that he has turned aside on this blessed Sabbath afternoon to look in upon us, to grace our worship with his presence and speak, if but a few words, to a part of the most loyal and patriotic of all American citizens. I need not assure you that it is the deep and abiding interest that our president has in every race and nationality that forms a part of our cosmopolitan republic that has caused him to be present with us in our worship at this hour.

We are glad to have him with us, first, because it evidences to the world his interest in us as a people and his belief in the possibilities that lie before us; secondly, because we desire this opportunity to say that the spirit of Crispus Attucks and of the black regulars who fought at Bunker Hill, Fort Pillow and Fort Donelson; at San Juan and El Caney, is the spirit whose sacred fires burn within the breasts of 10,000, 000 ebony-hued devotees at the shrine of Columbia.

Speaking for the 40,000 negroes of Chicago, as well as for the millions scattered throughout the realms of this mighty republic, . do not hesitate to say that to a man the negroes feel that our war with Spain, in the sight of God and man, was a righteous war. Moreover, the vast majority of us feel that wherever the folds of Old Glory have been unfurled, whether it be in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii or the faraway Philippines, there let the starry emblem continue to wave, at least until stable and satisfactory governments have been es-

There is no man living in whom the colored people of this country have more confidence than in our honored guest, President Wiliam McKinley, the Christian statesman, whose crystalline character, incalculable worth and masterly statesmanship enable him not only to righteously expand the borders of our country, but have also endeared him to the hearts of 70,000 liberty-loving Americans.

With pardonable pride and profoundest pleasure I have the honor to introduce to you the greatest president of the greatest nation on earth, the Hon. William Mc-Kinley.

The president said in response:

My friends, it gives me very great pleasure to meet with you on this memorial day. The noblest sentiment of the human heart after love of God is love of country, and that includes love of home, the cornerstone of strength and safety. Your race has demonstrated its patriotism by its sacrificesits love of the flag by dying for it. That is the greatest test of fidelity and loyalty. The nation has appreciated the valor and patriotism of the black men of the United States. They not only fought in Cuba, but in the Philippines, and they are carrying the flag as the symbol of liberty and hope to an oppressed people.

This is but one of many incidents which show the broad interest of the president in the colored men as well as in all classes of our citizenship. Does any colored voter in Ohio suppose that Grover Cleveland when president would ever have gone out of his way that state as constitutional and says: to visit a colored chapel? Would John R. McLean, who had to have a special mate articles of commerce. because street car to go from Columbus to Wes- | they are wholly noxious and deleterious

Only in religious things men seem to fancy they can disregard all dangers. scorn all warnings, run all risks, and at any time turn from the evil and be saved No error can be greater. All times and surroundings are not equally favorable to establishment in virtue and righteousness. Increased indulgence of wrong makes it more difficult to ever overcome and reduces our power of recovery. Autumn has fine, warm days, but he who neglects to sow in spring and hoe in summer gathers no crop in autumn.

Shakespeare in "Julius Cæsar" makes Brutus truly say:

There is a tide in the affairs of men Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; Omitted, all the voyage of their life Is bound in shallows and in miseries

If a duty is neglected, the equal chance rarely occurs again for doing it. If another opportunity does come, the impulse to action is less strong because of the first refusal. We get into habits which are hard to break. With our habits we acquire tastes and also lose relish for the opposite. In early life religious truth appeals peculiarly to us. Imagination, ambition, memory and reason all make for the good and pure and are uncorrupted. It is easy to become a follower of Jesus and to grow strong in knowledge and practice of His will.

Every fresh refusal to bring all powers of the person into obedience to the Master takes from the soul some of its power to know God and become like Him. If persisted in too long, the pow er of the human to become godly may be utterly lost. Spiritual powers may paralysis and immovable. A man may 16 to Oct. 21. in such a condition know his loss and regret it without power of any kind to recover from it. Here lies the difference between a Peter and a Judas.

Catching and Keeping.

In watching a baseball game we have often seen a good play spoiled by one who has caught the ball failing to hold it. In fishing we have known the greater part of the catch to spoil by not being cared for or salted down.

Many young people start in the Christian life, but there is failure somewhere, for they soon fall out and become as worldly as before. When once committed to Christ, there should be all the more watchfulness over the young on the part of older Christians. It is not criticism they need nor good advice half as much as sympathetic interest and something to do. There is more in keeping than in catching. It seems almost as if some churches and pastors delight in revival services and distance. conversions less because of the salvation of the services than in the "fun of catching them," as with sportsmen who fish not for the profit of the catch as much as for the enjoyment. But we are more than sportsmen. We are workmen. We must get and then learn to keep what we get.

"Pernicious Altogether."

Is there any locality where cigarettes are not smoked? If so, we have not heard of it. Even Sunday school boys and possible Epworth Leaguers are addicted to their abuse. It cannot be called their use.

Here comes the supreme court of Tennessee and condemns them in language which, if used in the pulpit. would by some be called extreme. The court sustains the law forbidding the sale or giving away of cigarettes in

President McKinley Welcomed by Colored Men.

INCIDENT OF HIS WESTERN TRIP.

Went Out of His Way to Accept the Iuvitation to Attend Quinn Chapel and Talk to His Colored Fellow-Citizens. What the President Said and How His Remarks Were Received.

An effort is being made through Mr. McLean's newspaper to convince the colored voters of Ohio that President McKinley has not been friendly to them.

When has an American president ever shown the thorough appreciation of his colored fellow-citizens which was manifested by President McKinley last Sunday in Chicago? The president had been greeted with an ovation in the magnificent auditorium which is probably the finest hall in America. When he returned to his hotel he was called upon by a delegation from the Men's Sunday club of Quinn chapel, an organization of representative colored men, and accepted their invitation to address them. He was driven at once to the chapel. In his party were Bishops Fallows and Arnett and Rev. A. J. Carey, pastor of Quinn chapel, and others.

The audience greeted his entrance by rising and singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." The president was introduced by Rev. Dr. Carey, who said in part:

Dear Christian friends, you can appreclate the fact that the president of the greatest nation on earth, with its vast population of 72,000,000 souls and its unbound ed territory stretching from the virgin soil of the Occident to the far-away lands of the Orient, has comparatively no time that he may truly call his own. For this reason we feel more than honored because of the fact that he has turned aside on this blessed Sabbath afternoon to look in upon us, to grace our worship with his presence and speak, if but a few words, to a part of the most loyal and patriotic of all American citizens. I need not assure you that it is the deep and abiding interest that our president has in every race and nationality that forms a part of our cosmopolitan republic that has caused him to be present with us in our worship at this hour.

We are glad to have him with us, first, because it evidences to the world his interest in us as a people and his belief in the possibilities that lie before us; secondly, be cause we desire this opportunity to say that the spirit of Crispus Attucks and of the black regulars who fought at Bunker Hill, Fort Pillow and Fort Donelson; at San Juan and El Caney, is the spirit whose sacred fires burn within the breasts of 10,000, 000 ebony-hued devotees at the shrine of Columbia.

cago, as well as for the millions scattered throughout the realms of this mighty republic, . do not hesitate to say that to a man the negroes feel that our war with Spain, in the sight of God and man, was a righteous war. Moreover, the vast majority of us feel that wherever the folds of Old Glory have been unfurled, whether it be in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii or the faraway Philippines, there let the starry emblem continue to wave, at least until stable and satisfactory governments have been es-

There is no man living in whom the colored people of this country have more confidence than in our honored guest, President Wiliam McKinley, the Christian statesman, whose crystalline character, incalculable worth and masterly statesmanship enable him not only to righteously expand the borders of our country, but have also endeared him to the hearts of 70,000 liberty-loving Americans.

With pardonable pride and profoundest pleasure I have the honor to introduce to you the greatest president of the greatest nation on earth, the Hon. William Mc-Kinley.

The president said in response:

My friends, it gives me very great pleasure to meet with you on this memorial day. The noblest sentiment of the human heart after love of God is love of country, and that includes love of home, the cornerstone of strength and safety. Your race has demonstrated its patriotism by its sacrificesits love of the flag by dying for it. That is the greatest test of fidelity and loyalty. The nation has appreciated the valor and patriotism of the black men of the United States. They not only fought in Cuba, but in the Philippines, and they are carrying the flag as the symbol of liberty and hope to an oppressed people.

This is but one of many incidents which show the broad interest of the president in the colored men as well as in all classes of our citizenship. Does any colored voter in Ohio suppose that Grover Cleveland when president would ever have gone out of his way to visit a colored chapel? Would John R. McLean, who had to have a special mate articles of commerce, because street car to go from Columbus to Wes- | they are wholly noxious and deleterious terville, eight miles, the other day in- [to health. Their use is always narmiu. stead of riding in the regular car, do so if he were governor, much less if he were president?

The McLean newspaper agitation is to secure votes only. He cares no more for the colored man than his father did when the Enquirer editorially condemned President Lincoln for issuing the emancipation proclamation.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 15, "Lost Opportunities"-Text. Jer. viii, 20; Math. xxiii, 37-39; Heb. xii, 17.

"The harvest is past, the summer is ended and we are not saved.'

We are subject to circumstances often beyond our control, and our safety depends at many times in seizing the favorable opportunity. In a burning building life may depend on instant action, and we must decide to run and ed the publishing houses to give better leave all valuables lest in stopping we helps and has stimulated study, interlose life itsels

Only in religious things men seem to fancy they can disregard all dangers, scorn all warnings, run all risks, and at any time turn from the evil and be saved No error can be greater. All To Pittsburg via Pennsylvania Lines on times and surroundings are not equally favorable to establishment in virtue and righteousness. Increased indulgence of wrong makes it more difficult to ever overcome and reduces our power of recovery. Autumn has fine, warm days, but he who neglects to sow in spring and hoe in summer gathers no crop in autumn.

Shakespeare in "Julius Cæsar" makes Brutus truly say:

There is a tide in the affairs of men Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; Omitted, all the voyage of their life Is bound in shallows and in miseries.

If a duty is neglected, the equal chance rarely occurs again for doing it. If another opportunity does come, the impulse to action is less strong because of the first refusal. We get into habits which are hard to break. With our habits we acquire tastes and also lose relish for the opposite. In early life religious truth appeals peculiarly to us. Imagination, ambition, memory and reason all make for the good and pure and are uncorrupted. It is easy to become a follower of Jesus and to grow strong in knowledge and practice of His will.

Every fresh refusal to bring all powers of the person into obedience to the Master takes from the soul some of its power to know God and become like Him. If persisted in too long, the pow er of the human to become godly may be utterly lost. Spiritual powers may become as atrophied as an arm held aloft may after years become fixed in paralysis and immovable. A man may in such a condition know his loss and regret it without power of any kind to recover from it. Here lies the difference between a Peter and a Judas.

Catching and Keeping.

In watching a baseball game we have often seen a good play spoiled by one who has caught the ball failing to hold it. In fishing we have known the greater part of the catch to spoil by not being cared for or salted down.

Many young people start in the Christian life, but there is failure somewhere, for they soon fall out and become as worldly as before. When once committed to Christ, there should be all the more watchfulness over the young on the part of older Christians. It is not criticism they need nor good advice half as much as sympathetic interest and something to do. There is more in keeping than in catching. It seems almost as if some churches and pastors delight in revival services and distance. conversions less because of the salvation of the services than in the "fun of catching them," as with sportsmen who fish not for the profit of the catch as much as for the enjoyment. But we are more than sportsmen. We are workmen. We must get and then learn to keep what we get.

"Pernicious Altogether."

Is there any locality where cigarettes are not smoked? If so, we have not heard of it. Even Sunday school boys and possible Epworth Leaguers are addicted to their abuse. It cannot be called their use.

Here comes the supreme court of Tennessee and condemns them in language which, if used in the pulpit. would by some be called extreme. The court sustains the law forbidding the sale or giving away of cigarettes in that state as constitutional and says "We think cigarettes are not legitinever beneficial. They possess no virtue, but are inherently bad, and bad only They find no true commendation or merit or usefulness in any sphere. On the contrary, they are widely condemned as pernicious altogether Beyond question their every tendency is toward the impairment of physical health and mental vigor.'

Consolidation.

Industrial affairs tend rapidly toward concentration in trusts. Properly handled, this tendency may be post valua-

Religious work is tending toward cooperation if not consolidation. It makes for economy of effort and avoids waste. It need not arouse pride or antagonism. It has been of value in many ways to make the topics for League, Christian Endeavor and Baptist union uniform. The same is true of international Sunday school lessons. Tempted Again.

Tempted again! Is there no earthly height The soul may reach above the realms of sin, Beyond the mists which cloud the heavenly light, And where temptation cannot enter in?

Tempted again! Alas, how vain the thought That mortal feet could tread a way so sure, Where all the cunning arts of evil wrought Fail in their power to charm with subtle lure.

Think not to tread a secret, chosen path, And shut out weakness, sorrow, pain and sin; Go face the tempter till he pales with wrath, Seeing the victory that he may not win.

Tempted again! But, oh, how sweet the thought, Beyond Thy strength temptation cannot be! He who was tempted knows how sin is wrought, Beyond thy strength He will not suffer thee. -Leila S. Frost.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 15-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle, Topic -Lost opportunities .- Jer. viii, 20; Math.

xxiii, 37-39; Heb. xii, 17. Several phases of opportunities and their loss are presented to us in the topical references. They should make a serious and lasting impression upon us because of the greatness of our oppor-

1. The greater the opportunity the more serious its loss (Jer. viii, 20). "The harvest is passed, the summer is ended, and we are not saved." The Jews had their opportunity to be saved, but they rejected salvation, and the kingdom was lost, and the seriousness of the loss was tremendously magnified because of the priceless value of that which was lost-the life and well being of a nation. To lose an opportunity that involves little is perhaps of small moment, but to lose an opportunity that involves the destiny of a nation or the eternal destiny of an immortal soul, is a matter of the most stupendous importance. Our most valuable opportunity is for salvation in Christ. Let us see to it that the harvest does not pass without our being saved. 2. Opportunity brings responsibility and, if lost, places the blame upon ourselves (Math. xxiii, 37-39). Christ had been willing to gather the people of Jerusalem to Himself, to protect them as a hen doth her brood, but Jerusalem would not. The opportunity to be saved placed the responsibility of salvation upon the people, and when they rejected it and doom came they alone were to blame. The fact that God gives us opportunities relieves Him of the responsibility and places it upon us, and if we fail we can pass no censure upon God. but must bear the brunt of failure our selves. This serious fact should inspire us to seize and use every opportunity of life for being good and doing good and for making the salvation of our souls absolutely certain.

3. Lost opportunities are irrevocable (Heb. xii, 17). Esau had the opportunity of inheriting the blessing of the firstborn son of Isaac. He lightly esteemed it and rejected it, and "when he would have inherited the blessing he was rejected, for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears." It was too late. He had lost his opportunity. Another possessed the blessing, and it could not be returned to Esau. But undoubtedly the blessings here do not typify the salvation of the soul, but rather opportunities for service. But in the parable of the virgins we have an illustration of an opportunity for salvation which, once lost, never returned. This is the saddest phase of opportunities. Once gone, they never return. The past is irrevocable. We may repent our loss, we may mourn for our opportunities, but no repentance, no mourning, will ever recall them. How important, therefore. that no opportunities should be lost!

Bible Readings. - Ps. xxxii, 6; Eccl. xii, 1; Isa. lv, 6, 7; Math. v, 25; xxv. 1-13; Luke xiii, 24, 25; John vii, 32-34; viii, 21; ix, 4; I Cor. xv, 58; II Cor. vi, 1, 2; Heb. iv, 1-11.

To Love Them.

Every relation to mankind, of hate or scorn or neglect, is full of vexation and torment. There is nothing to do with men but to love them; to contemplate their virtues with admiration, their faults with pity and forgiveness. Task all the ingenuity of your mind to devise some other thing, but you can never find it. To hate your adversary will not help you; to kill him will not help you; nothing within the compass of the universe can help you but to love him. But let that love flow out upon all around you, and what could harm you? How many a knot of mystery and misunderstanding would be untied by one truth of heart! How many a solitary place would be made glad if love were there, and how many a dark dwelling would be filled with light!-Orville

Think of God.

Just turn from the world a moment and think of God. Do so especially when you are anxious and worn with care. Turn to Him and leave your trouble with Him. Many of them will shrink and look feelishly small when His light falls on them. You will find, like the man in the fairy tale, that the devil has been leading you on by making you beleve that withered turnips were gold. Turn to God in your moments of joy and gratitude too. Share them with Him. Apply the social instinct to the best companion of all-to your Father. -Watchman.

Rally to the Work.

Vacation season is over. Now comes the most beautiful season of the whole year for work in many parts of the land Plan to begin the fall campaign promptly. Hot weather and absence of many people from home have prevented vigorous and aggressive work during the summer Cooler weather and increased vigor of mind and body should be utilized in League work. Have a "rally evening," with welcome home addresses, reminiscences of vacation days and plans of work for coming days. Collect arrearages of dues, get the reading course in shape, start anew the mercy and help visitation and relief work, enthuse with new life the prayer meeting, hunt up the newcomers to town and enlist them in the active work, fill up the empty seats at the preaching service, get the wheels a-going briskly for earnest, forward effort.

Unwise Seeking.

An old lady noted for her sour az.d. crabbed disposition suddenly became the direct opposite. Asked the cause of the change, she said "I have all my life been striving for a contented mind without getting it. Now I have concluded to sit down contented without She had at last learned that happiness never comes to those who search for it. Seek right, and if you succeed in being right you will be happy

Our Worst Fault.

As Christians our worst failures come not from lack of knowledge of what to do and how to do it, not from lack of ability or opportunity. We know enough and are able enough to do much better than most of us do. Our lack is more one of disposition, selfishness, indolence, love of ease, amounting in some cases to sheer laziness and carelessness for others. Self denial is the sure cure

The Home and the Church.

peace is the sovereign—the home and the church. No one should ever throw the pebbles of discord into those waters. Why one should remain in either when his presence gives offense is a species of martyrdom we cannot understand. Discord is antagonistic to the one purpose of church and home life. To fight for a position in either is a battle to which victory cannot come. God made the world wider than our necessities demand. The margin belongs to those who are always better than their neighbors or friends. - Presbyterian Journal

The Democratic artists of Mr. Mcnice picture of Admiral Dewey and Admiral Schley coming in contact, and treating each other very affectionately There isn't any doubt of the warm friendship of these gentlemen. And The Enquirer's picture is explained by an inscription to the effect that Admiral Schley was received with great enthusiasm, though "assigned to a position far in the rear." It seems to be the idea of The Enquirer people that the administration managed the procession in the city of New York and tried to shove Admiral Schley aside. The authorities of the city of New York are Democratic—in fact, the rulers of the city are Tammany men. If Schley was sighted it was they and not President McKinley who slighted him. Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 15-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic - Lost opportunities .- Jer. viii, 20; Math. xxiii, 37-39; Heb. xii, 17.

Several phases of opportunities and their loss are presented to us in the topical references. They should make a serious and lasting impression upon us because of the greatness of our opportunities today. 1. The greater the opportunity the more serious its loss (Jer. viii, 20).

"The harvest is passed, the summer is ended, and we are not saved." The Jews had their opportunity to be saved, but they rejected salvation, and the kingdom was lost, and the seriousness of the loss was tremendously magnified because of the priceless value of that which was lost-the life and well being of a nation. To lose an opportunity that involves little is perhaps of small moment, but to lose an opportunity that involves the destiny of a nation or the eternal destiny of an immortal soul, is a matter of the most stupendous importance. Our most valuable opportunity is for salvation in Christ. Let us see to it that the harvest does not pass without our being saved.

2. Opportunity brings responsibility and, if lost, places the blame upon ourselves (Math. xxiii, 37-39). Christ had been willing to gather the people of Jerusalem to Himself, to protect them as a hen doth her brood, but Jerusalem would not. The opportunity to be saved placed the responsibility of salvation upon the people, and when they rejected it and doom came they alone were to blame. The fact that God gives us opportunities relieves Him of the responsibility and places it upon us, and if we fail we can pass no censure upon God, but must bear the brunt of failure ourselves. This serious fact should inspire us to seize and use every opportunity of life for being good and doing good and for making the salvation of our souls absolutely certain.

3. Lost opportunities are irrevocable (Heb. xii, 17). Esau had the opportunity of inheriting the blessing of the firstborn son of Isaac. He lightly esteemed it and rejected it, and "when he would have inherited the blessing he was rejected, for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears." It was too late. He had lost his opportunity. Another possessed the blessing, and it could not be returned to Esau. But undoubtedly the blessings here do not typify the salvation of the soul, but rather opportuni ties for service. But in the parable of the virgins we have an illustration of an opportunity for salvation which, once lost, never returned. This is the saddest phase of opportunities. Once gone, they never return. The past is irrevocable. We may repent our loss, we may mourn for our opportunities, but no repentance, no mourning, will ever recall them. How important, therefore. that no opportunities should be lost!

Bible Readings.—Ps. xxxii, 6; Eccl xii, 1; Isa. lv, 6, 7; Math. v, 25; xxv. 1-13; Luke xiii, 24, 25; John vii, 32-34 viii, 21; ix, 4; I Cor. xv, 58; II Cor. vi, 1, 2; Heb. iv, 1-11.

To Love Them.

Every relation to mankind, of hate or scorn or neglect, is full of vexation and torment. There is nothing to do with men but to love them; to contemplate their virtues with admiration, their faults with pity and forgiveness. Task all the ingenuity of your mind to devise some other thing, but you can never find it. To hate your adversary will not help you; to kill him will not help you; nothing within the compass of the universe can help you but to love him. But let that love flow out upon all around you, and what could harm you? How many a knot of mystery and misunderstanding would be untied by one word spoken in simple and confiding truth of heart! How many a solitary place would be made glad if love were there, and how many a dark dwelling would be filled with light!-Orville

Think of God.

Just turn from the world a moment and think of God. Do so especially when you are anxious and worn with care. Turn to Him and leave your trouble with Him. Many of them will shrink and look foolishly small when His light falls on them. You will find, like the man in the fairy tale, that the devil has been leading you on by making you believe that withered turnips were gold. Turn to God in your moments of joy and gratitude too. Share them with Him. Apply the social instinct to the best companion of all-to your Father. -Watchman.

Rally to the Work.

Vacation season is over. Now comes the most beautiful season of the whole year for work in many parts of the land Plan to begin the fall campaign promptly. Hot weather and absence of many people from home have prevented vigorous and aggressive work during the summer Cooler weather and increased vigor of mind and body should be utilized in League work. Have a "rally evening," with welcome home addresses, reminiscences of vacation days and plans of work for coming the mercy and help visitation and relief work, enthuse with new life the prayer meeting, hunt up the newcomers to town and enlist them in the active work, fill up the empty seats at the preaching service, get the wheels a-going briskly for earnest, forward effort.

Unwise Seeking.

An old lady noted for her sour and crabbed disposition suddenly became the direct opposite. Asked the cause of the change, she said "I have all my life been striving for a contented mind without getting it. Now I have concluded to sit down contented without it." She had at last learned that happiness never comes to those who search for it. Seek right, and if you succeed in being right you will be happy.

Our Worst Fault.

As Christians our worst failures come not from lack of knowledge of what to do and how to do it, not from lack of ability or opportunity. We know enough and are able enough to do much better than most of us do. Our lack is more one of disposition, selfishness, indolence, love of ease, amounting in some cases to sheer laziness and carelessness for others. Self denial is the sure cure.

The Home and the Church.

There are two kingdoms of which peace is the sovereign—the home and the church. No one should ever throw the pebbles of discord into those waters. Why one should remain in either when his presence gives offense is a species of martyrdom we cannot understand. Discord is antagonistic to the one purpose of church and home life. To fight for a position in either is a battle to which world wider than our necessities demand. The margin belongs to those American war. who are always better than their neighbors or friends. - Presbyterian Journal.

BUYING CROWDS PLANTS.

Some Works Filled Bayond Their Capacity-Wheat Exports Larger Than Last Year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade issued today said in part:

Industrial conditions could hardly be better. After many months of such extracedinary buying that its continuance seemed impossible, even larger buying still crowds producing works in most lines beyond their capacity. The iron furnaces are producing 11,000 tons weekly more than ever before, 278,615 tons Oct. 1, and yet the actual consumption in manufacture reduced unsold stocks in September by 27,380 tons, while the demand runs far ahead into next year for many products. After the great buying last week, Bessemer pig rises to $24 at Pittsburg, with No. 1 anthracite at Philadelphia and No. 1 local coke at Chicago both quoted at $23.50 and buyers paying premiums for early deliveries according to their needs. The finished products still advance, eastern bar to $2.15 and tank plates to $3.10, and the average of percentages to prices of Jan. 1, 1887, is now 100.64 for finished products and 108.6 for pig. In some lines, however, production has so far gained that works are beginning to look for orders to cover next year.

Some Works Filled Bayond Their Capacity-Wheat Exports Larger Than Last Year.

BUYING CROWDS PLANTS.

Some Works Filled Beyond Their Capacity-Wheat Exports Larger Than Last Year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade issued to day said in part:

Industrial conditions could hardly be better. After many months of such extracedinary buying that its continuance seemed impossible, even larger buying still crowds producing works in most lines beyond their capacity. The iron furnaces are producing 11,000 tons weekly more than ever before, 278,615 tons Oct. 1, and yet the actual consumption in manufacture reduced unsold stocks in September by 27,380 tons, while the demand runs far ahead into next year for many products. After the great buying last week, Bessemer pig rises to $24 at Pittsburg, with No. 1 anthracite at Philadelphia and No. 1 local coke at Chicago both quoted at $23.50 and buyers paying premiums for early deliveries according to their needs. The finished products still advance, eastern bar to $2.15 and tank plates to $3.10, and the average of percentages to prices of Jan. 1, 1887, is now 100.64 for finished products and 108.6 for pig. In some lines, however, production has so far gained that works are beginning to look for orders to cover next year.

The demand for woon a goods is fairly large and prices are wen sustained, though not further andvanced. In goods of petter grades there is some uncertainty. Sales of wool are smaller, only 7,473,300 pounds for the week at the three markets without further ad-

Wheat exports are still larger than from the great crop of last year, Atlantic, flour included, having been 7,351,-990 busnels in two weeks, against 6,-116,689 busnels last year, and Pacific 730,448 busnels, against 1,375,034 bush-• s last year. The western receipts nave been only 14,518 892 bushels, against 20,790,495 bushels last year, but the course of prices is not calculated to encourage a big movement, for after starting at 75.57 cents, and falling to 75 cents, the market closed at 75 cents, with December options unchanged.

Corn receipts 13,789,749 bushels, against 11,047,258 bushels in two weeks of last year, with exports of 6,177,148 bushels, against 4,367,598 bushels last year, show a supply and a foreign demand which might well affect the wheat market to some extent.

Failures for the first week of October were $1,687,068 in amount, manufacturing $387,914 and trading $408,599. Failures for the week have been 164 in the United States, against 205 last year, and 27 in Canada, against 25 last

CHRISTIAN CHURCH JUBILEE | The First

10,000 Expected to Take Communion on Sunday.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14 .- The Christian churches or Disciples of Christ began here the jubilee of their organized missions. This denomination, which began 75 years ago under the leadership of Dr. Alex. Campbell and has had such distinguished adherents as President Garfield and Hon. Jeremian S. Black is now more than 1,000,000 strong. Three-fourths are in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Kentucky and Kansas. They are notably an active B. C. SIMMS. denomination in evangelistic work. Over 100,000 converts were added the present year.

This jubilee convention is represented by three missionary societies—the Christian Women's Board of Missions, the American Christian Missionary society and the Foreign Christian Missionary society. It is in no sense a legislative body and never deals in trials. Delegates and visitors are here from foreign countries.

Among the pioneer preachers are Rev. C. L. Loos of Kentucky, Rev. H. Pritchard of Indiana, Rev. Robert Moffett of Ohio and Rev. W. T. Moore of Missouri. This year has been highly successful in missionary contributions. the total being over $500,000.

The Christian Women's Board of Missions began its sessions with the address of Mrs. O. A. Burgess, president.
Miss Lois A. White, secretary, presented the annual report.

Mrs. O. A. Burgers of Indianapolis called the woman's board to order. The report of the secretary, Miss Lois A. White, showed that over $100,000 had been raised the past year for missions. The report of Mrs. Helen Moses on the Bible chair movement was loudly applauded. It is the purpose to establish such a chair for English Bible instruction at every state university. Prof. Coler, who occupies this chair at Ann Arbor, Mich., made an address.

The notable feature of the Christian woman's board of foreign missions was the memorial service at the Richmond Street church, where the society was organized 25 years ago. Mrs. C. N. Pearre of Indiana, who was the leader in the organization, gave a touching address of reminiscences. Miss Jennie R. Errett of Ohio, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Isaac Errett, read an address on "Leaves From Unwritten History." Many of the charter members were present.

So large were the crowds that two erflow meetings were held.

A feature of the jubilee convention will be the communion service Sunday afternoon, provision for which has been made in three of the largest auditoriums of the city, and in which 10,000 persons are expected to participate.

BATTLE WITH BOERS

Gen. White's Men Encountered
Them In Natal.

A TRAIN DESTROYED BY BOERS.

One Report Said Fifteen Men of the English Force on the Armored Train Were Killed — An American Citizen Abused by Free State Burghers.

London, Oct. 14. — An Edinburgh paper, The Scotsman, this morning, asserted that a battle has taken place between General Sir George Stewart White, commanding the forces in Natal, and the Boers, who entered Natal by way of Van Reenans pass. General White, The Scotsman says, is very sanguine of the success of the British movement.

The foregoing report is considered to be correct, as late last night the war office had news of a British advance from Ladysmith and was hourly expecting further intelligence.

A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from its correspondent at Ladysmith, dated at noon on Friday, says:

"A strong moble column, under General Sir George Stewart White, accompanied by General Sir Archibald Hunter, proceeded before daybreak this morning toward Acton Homes for the purpose of reconnoitering. General White's object was to observe what was going on and also to test the nobility and efficiency of his forces. All the men are well, and the weather is now fine."

The Daily Mail's Cape Town correspondent, telegraphing Friday evening, said: "I learn on good authority that the Boers are attacking Mafeking. They are reported to have already suffered several repulses. It is generally admitted that Vryburg cannot stand a strong Boer attack.

According to The Daily Mail's Cape Town correspondent, Mr. Schreiner, premier of Cape Colony, will unreservedly support the imperial government. His previous reserve was dictated by a desire not to drive the extreme Dutch residents to excesses.

Evart Grobier, member of the volks-raad for Philipopolis, has been elected commandant general of the Free State forces. He is only 35 years of age, is well educated and was Free State delegate to the Chicago exhibition.

The Prince of Wales promised to see General Redvers Buller and staff off from the Waterloo station today.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Evening News published the following dispatch from Cape Town:

An armored train has been destroyed south of Mafeking. Fifteen British troops were killed. The Boers shelled the wreckage after the train was devailed.

The entire crew of the armored train, with the exception of the engine driver, were made prisoners by the Boers.

An earlier dispatch from Vryburg announced that the Boers had advanced to the railway and cut the telegraph wires. It was estimated that 2,000 Burghers then held the railroad.

The cabinet met in council and public interest in the session was very keen. Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain, with other popular favorites, were cheered is they arrived

Although the latest phase in the situation in South Africa was considered, the principal business was to arrange respecting the text of the queen's speech on the reassembling of parliament next Tuesday, and other prelim-

A dispatch from Cape Town says that no doubt is felt as to the loyalty of Lerothodi and other native chiefs, and the Basutes were well in hand, but the resident commissioner had decided to patrol the border in order to patrol the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border in order to be a superscript of the border to be a

A later dispatch to The Evening News says the armored train was attempting to run through the Boers.

London, Oct. 14.—At New Brighton, at a public meeting, a letter was read from Rudyard Kipling, in which he said in part:

"I need not say I am entirely in sympathy with the object of the meeting, and realize our country's obligation at this crisis to support her majesty's government unreservedly. Their demand, I take it to be, is for equal rights for all white men from the Cape to the Zambesi; their aim, the establishment of a republic instead of an oligarchy and their vindication, a new and regenerate.

formed in open council by free men, neither corrupted nor coerced, representing every interest in the land. These things are good and desirable and I recognize that it is the duty of each one of us, according to his abilities, to work toward their attainment."

CAPE Town, Oct. 12.—(Delayed in transmission.)—No news of fighting has yet been received.

It is suggested that with a view of retaining the good will of the Basutes the authorities shall not press for payment of the hut tax.

An American citizen has sworn to an affidavit before the American consul here, in which he states that he has been subjected by Burghers of the Free State to great ill-treatment. His limbs bear marks showing the effects of the treatment he has received.

PRETORIA, Oct. 12.—(Delayed in transmission.)—There was no further news from General Cronje's western commando. Commandant General Joubert's commando was at Volksrust. Several Cape Colonists were sworn in as Burghers.

The minister of mines reported that a satisfactory number of mines are being worked, and that the government will keep the shatts of abandoned mines free of water in the interest of shareholders.

It was reported that 46 cases of gold valued at £500,000, which were discovered in different canteens in Johannesburg, were confiscated by the government.

Commandant General Joubert issued a circular from the chief laager in consequence of the report that some of the Burghers had misbehaved themselves on their journey to the borders, plundering a number of stores. Such offenses, the commandant general said, would be severely punished.

"When we are unwillingly compelled to cross the boundary line of our country," said General Joubert, "let it not be thought that we are a band of better, and with that in view, remain as far as possible from private dwellings and from places where no enemy is stationed. When food or forage for the cattle is needed, let certain officers acquire such goods from the owner, and let a receipt be given with promise of recompense by the government."

The Volkstein said: "Two small republics have entered upon a struggle with a gigantic power which wishes to crush them. Conquer or die is the battle cry of the brave Burghers. Thus will the question be solved and the republics once for all will either be treed from British provocation or will have to bend their necks to the yokes of British tyranny. England's might will not decide the issue. That remains with God alone."

Preforia, Oct. 12, via Lorenzo Marques, Oct. 14.—An official manifesto has been addressed to Afrikanders throughout South Africa appealing to them to resist "the unjust demands of Great Britain," and accusing Lord Salisbury, Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Alfred Milner of treachery. It blames the queen for condoning what it describes as "Mr. Chamberlain's criminal policy," and declares that "the clear desire and object of Great Britain are to deprive the Transvaal of independence on account of the gold mines of the Rand"

BLOEMFONTEIN, Oct. 12. — (Delayed in transmission.)—Martial law has been proclaimed and the courts are closed.

A proclamation has been issued warning British subjects to leave the Orange Free State before 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Permits to remain may be obtained from the authorities and the proclamation calls on the Burghers to respect those who secure such permits.

President Steyn has made a strong appeal to the Burghers to do their best to preserve the independence of the republic

GERMANY WOULD TAKE ACTION.

Wants an International Force to Police Mines In Transvanl.

Berlin, Oct. 14.—The German foreign office gave out information that Germany would gladly co-operate in a courteously, though urgently worded request to the Transvaal government to permit the creation of an international police force to protect the mines.

Health officer Threatens Arrest.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14.—Health Officer Leick began a crusade against adulterated food and arrests will be made under the pure food laws. He announced that a disinfecting preparation was being used by a number of butchers to preserve meat in hot weather and by milk dealers to prevent milk from turning sour. The preparation is a weak solution of formaldehyde, which is employed by the health office in disinfecting houses where there has been smallpox.

REBELS DRIVEN OUT

Forced From Their Trenches by a Scouting Party.

THREE AMERICANS WERE KILLED.

Bumored That American Prisoners Were Found Bound, Gagged and Shot—Lieutenant of Native Police Arrested at Manila—Gen. Schwan Reached Bacoor.

Manila, Oct. 14.—Major Cheatham, with a scouting party, while proceeding along the west shore of the lake encountered a force of rebels strongly entrenched at Muntinlupa. Major Cheatham reports that he drove the rebels from their position, and that in the engagement three Americans were killed and two were wounded. Rumors are in circulation in Manila that Major Cheatham discovered three American prisoners, who had been bound, gagged and shot by the insurgents. These rumors, however, are not confirmed.

One Sandago, a lieutenant of the native police, was arrested and lodged in jail, his subordinate having reported to the authorities that he was endeavoring to enlist them in a plot to turn the police against the Americans in the event of an uprising.

Reports having reached the provost marshal that arms were concealed at the headquarters of the Dominican friars, a large building adjoining the palace, a detachment of soldiers made a search of the building. They found a small stock of Mausers, revolvers and ammunition, which was confiscated despite the protests of the friars that the arms were not intended for unlawful use.

General Schwan, with the infantry, reached Bacoor. The troops were greatly exhausted, having had one of the hardest marches of the campaign. From Malabon to Perez Das Marinas, they marched through roadless rice fields. The Fourth infantry, from Imus, joined General Schwan, at Perez Das Marinas. The Filipinos had deserted the town upon learning of the approach of the Americans, leaving only the women and children behind.

Two strong shocks of earthquake, lasting several seconds, were felt in Manila about 10 o'clock last evening.

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 14.—Over 10,000 people greeted President McKinley and his party when they arrived here. Entering carriages, the party was driven to a reviewing stand through lines of the First North Dakota volunteers, who recently returned from the Philippines. The president was received with wild demonstrations. In his address he referred repeatedly to the situation in the Philippines.

When he declared the United States government would send 65,000 men to the Philippines to uphold the American flag where the volunteers had placed it, the crowd approved the declaration with wild applause.

At some of the towns enroute here, the president was greeted by large crowds. He spoke at some of the places.

Attorney General Griggs, Secretaries Long, Gage, Hitchcock and Wilson and Senators Hansbrough and McCumber spoke briefly. The exercises were limited to speaking and the review of the First North Dakota volunteers.

WILL RAISE ORE RATES.

Rockefeller to Increase Them Next Year.

The Prices Also Are to Be Put Up.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14.—As the result of the efforts of the Rockefeller interests and their heavy purchases of iron ore carrying vessels the lake freight rate on ore next season will be $1.25, which is an advance of 65 cents over this season's rate. Owing to the advance in freight the ore men announce that the price of ore will go up $2. Seventy-five per cent of the output of the mines for the first six months of next year has already been contracted for.

The turnace men are making strenuous efforts to prevent an increase in the price of pigiron, being fearful that an advance would result in a dangerous reaction.

The Rockefeller interests were negotiating for the purchase of two more steamers, the Senator and a new boat being built at Detroit.

FIGHT ENDED THE GAME.

Reed of W. & J. Accused of Fouling Burns, at Beliefonte, Pa.—A Fight Followed.

Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 14.—The State college and Washington and Jefferson 100tball game here wound up in a fight. The end came after ten minutes of fast and snappy football had been played. Burns, State's left halfback, made an £3-yard run and was downed by Core of Washington and Jefferson on the latter's 15-yard line. Reed of Washington and Jefferson, it was alleged, then jumped on Burns' chest with both knees, injuring him.

Coach Samuel Boyle, the University of Pennsylvania's old end, seeing the foul, jumped into the line, followed by Captain Randolph of State, and a lively fight took place for a few minutes. Boyle and Kandolph refused to allow the State team to continue and the officials declared the game off. The umpire and referee gave out a statement holding that State was in the right for refusing to go on.

TRIBUTE TO GEORGE PAULL.

By Beaver In an Address Before a Princeton Audience.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 14.—Ex-Governor James A. Beaver of Pennsylvania talked to an audience of students here. The subject was the general and worldwide movement of Christian missions.

Judge Beaver paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the late George Paull, whose home was in Dunbar, Pa., and who gave up his life as a missionary in the jungles of Africa. Paull was a sophomore in Washington and Jefferson college at the time that James Beaver was a semor there, and the latter protlaimed Paull as the greatest hero of his famous college.

A HOLD-UP IN ILLINOIS

Train Robbed Not Far From De Kalb.

THE EXPRESS CAR DEMOLISHED.

Bandits Then Dynamited the Safe—First Bound and Gagged Station Agent and Then Signaled the Train—Amount Secured Was Unknown.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—A Northwestern limited train was held up not far from DeKalb, Ilis., and robbed. The holdup occurred at tower W, three miles from Maple Park, Ills. It not known whether the robbers secured any great amount of booty.

It is said there were five masked men engaged in the operation.

About 20 minutes before the train was due at Maple Park the robbers burst into the station house and bound and gagged the agent. They then changed the signals which stopped the train. As soon as it came to a halt two of the men covered the engineer and fireman with revolvers, and, after uncoupling the engine, compelled the engineer to run it down the track about two miles.

They then blew up the express car with dynamite, practically demolishing it. It is not known how much money was secured. Immediately after grabbing what they could, the robbers fled. They are now being pursued, but the robbers have quite a lead over the posse that is after them.

SHOTS FOR ROBBERS.

Officers Lay In Wait For Bandits—Attempt on a Bank Fatal — Two Wounded and One Suicides.

SEVIERVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 14.—An attempt by three masked men to rob the Sevierville bank resulted disastrously for all of them. William Derrick killed himself, William Thurmer fatally wounded and Cal Derrick slightly woulded.

Officers of this place, who had been warned that an attempt would be made to rob the bank by three desperadoes, had secreted themselves in a building opposite the bank, and when the outlaws fired into the bank they were promptly answered by a fusilande. Thurner, the leader of the robbers, dropped to the ground mortally wounded. Cal Derrick fell seriously wounded. The third man, William Derrick, fled.

For about a mile and a half he ran in front of a fierce fire from the pursuing officers. He entered an open door of a barn and his place of refuge was quickly surrounded. Realizing that the odds were against him, he stepped out in plain view of all, saluted the sheriff, and crying "goodby, boys," placed his pistol to his head and blew out his brains.

Thurmer can hardly survive.

Thurmer is an ex-convict who had been pardoned while serving a life sentence for the murder of a Knoxville policeman. Bill Derrick, the suicide, was a desperate mountain characte who had just returned from the west.

Cal Derrick, who was wounded, was thought to be a respectable, peaceable man. He was a Knoxville liveryman and was married.

WEAK SPOTS IN INGHAM'S STORYS

Newitt's Straightforward Testimony Apparently Had Effect on Jury.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Former U. S. District Attorney Ingham continued his testimony in the trial here of him and Newitt. He declared that the code he and Kendig used was for the purpose of preventing a detective named Downey, hired by Kendig, from finding out that another detective was to be hired, Kendig fearing Downey would, turn against him.

District Attorney Beck succeeded in forcing Mr. Ingham to admit that he would utter an untruth if the exigencies of the case required it. Mr. Ingnam played for sympathy by referring to his long acquaintance with Mr. Beck.

Harvey K. Newitt told of his alleged dealings with Secret Service Agent Mc-Manus. His apparently frank manner had a marked impression on the jury. He declared that McManus' testimony was absolutely false.

DISMISSED THE CASE

An East End Quarrel Aired Before Justice Rose.

EVIDENCE WAS NOT CONVICTING

And the Case Was Dismissed -- Another Fight Occurred In the Klondike District--Items of Interest About East End People and Happenings.

An echo of one of the three rows in the East End this week was heard in Justice Rose's office this morning. Two of the rows took place in the Klondike and this one in Dixonville Wednesday night. It was caused by children engaging in a stone throwing fight. Joseph J. Douglass says he started in to act as peacemaker but was swiped in the face and as a result he entered suit for assault against Laura Dobbs.

Five witnesses were summoned for the state and three for the defense. Douglass's witnesses were Eliza Douglass, Ida, Ella, John and R. H. Fetty. Those for the defense were Ray Pinker. ton, Christina McDonald and Basta Dobbs. The testimony was voluminous and contradictory.

After summing up the testimony Squire Rose decided there was not sufficient evidence to bind the defendant to court and he dismissed the case, with costs against the plaintiff.

ANOTHER FIGHT.

Two Potters Settle Their Troubles In a Quarrel In the Klondike District.

The Klondike district has been putting on pugilistic airs of late, and one fight generally leads to another. Thursday night two men, employed in an East End pottery, went above Dry Run and settled a misunderstanding. Those men were badly used up, and from ap pearances it seemed all difficulties had been settled.

BOARD WILL ACT.

Desire to Ascertain If East End School Teachers Are at Fault.

Several members of the board of education Monday night will inquire into the matter as to why teachers in the East End school do not excuse their scholars when they are so requested. The children of three families have been unable to attend the sessions, as a result of the actions of the teachers, and it is the intention of the board to make a thorough investigation.

The average man is a doubter. It is due to this fact that we are constantly making strides in science and physics. in the face of such evidence as is presented below no man possessed with ordinary common sense can doubt. If any exist, call on Mr. Jacob Schenkle, tonsorial artist, whose parlor is at 138 Sixih street, East Liverpool, and ask him if the following is not literally true:

Mr. Schenkle says:

"I was troubled on and off for several years with a weakness of my back and kidneys, severe pains across the loins around through my thighs, at times so bad that it was impossible for me to get out of bed, cramps through my limbs and frequent attacks of dizziness. It was probably the result of a neglected cold. Be that as it may, I suffered with the attacks. I was recommended to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and procured a box at the W. & W pharmacy. BUILDING TO BE ONE STORY

Chester Rolling Mill Company Unearthed a Political Game In Giving Men Empleyment--Railroad Company to Build Iron Bridges Over Second and Third Streets-- News of Chester and Vicinity.

This morning J. G. Lee, W. L. Smith, John N. Taylor, Engineer Charles Kelly and Architect Fritz spent several hours on the Marks farm, where the new pottery will be erected. The gentlemen intended to take the level of the ground and stake off the foundation. but this was found to be impossible on account of the high weeds. This afternoon a number of men were put to work mowing the field, and it is very probable the work will be finished so the ground can be staked off Monday morning.

The pottery will be a one story building 400x160 feet. The four biscuit kilns will be 18 feet in diameter while five glost kilns will be 161/2 feet.

Engineer Hutchison, of the Pennsylvania railroad, today visited the new factory site and took some data relative to the extending of the railroad as was stated in this paper last week.

A DEMOCRATIC SCHEME.

Pa. Politicians to Receive Votes Promise Jobs at the Chester Mill.

'The Chester Rolling Mill company has unearthed a scheme that is being worked by some Pennsylvania politicians in promising positions to men at the local mill, provided they would vote for them. Voegtley is a strong Republican, and he is not pleased with the scheme. The only person who has the power to promise positions is Mr. Bergman who is now in New Kensington. The letters are being kept, but it is evident none of them will ever be answered.

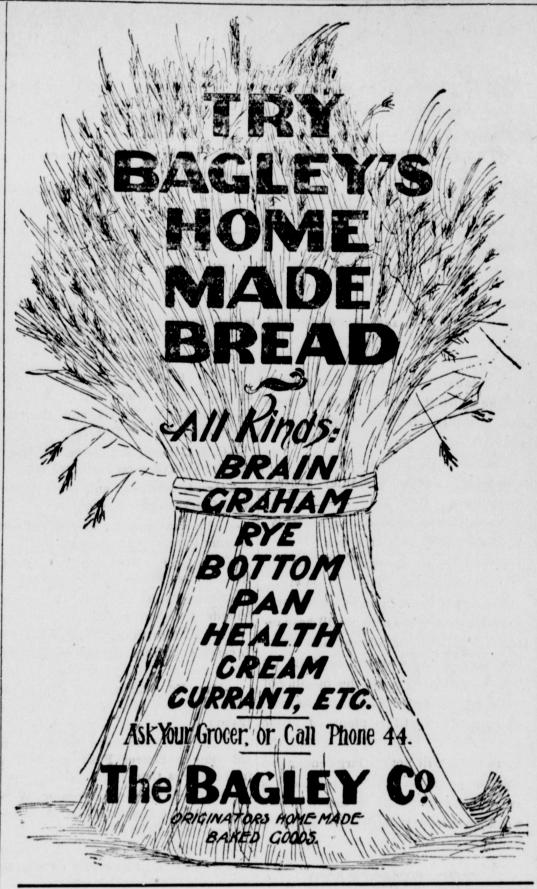

TWO BRIDGES.

Railroad Company Will Bridge Second and Third Streets In Chester.

Engineer McConnell yesterday surweyed the ground at the intersection of Second and Third streets and the railroad. The company will build iron bridges over the railroad at these streets and the county will be put to no expense as was first thought.

The work of laying rails on the extension will be resumed next week. This has been delayed during the month on account of the track men being put to work on the main line placing it in first-class order before the annual inspection. The grading at the narrows is nearing completion and it will not be many weeks now before the entire road is finished.

It is very likely a number of New Cumberland people will move to Chester after the extension is completed. Several people from that place have the man's name mentioned in the letter viewed building sites in and about the as an aspirant for a position in town during the week and one man the mill, and anything that would stated he would erect a boarding house as soon as found out where the station was to be located.

THE local Democracy are beginning to fear that Columbiana county may have been torn off McLean's map of the state.

GREAT meteoric displays are scheduled for November 12. John R. McLean will have a private view of all the stars in the firmament five days earlier.

It is reported from Lisbon that Potts, of the Patriot, and Aguinaldo are to be rivals in the race for the Democratic nomination for land appraiser in Center township.

SINCE the Eighteenth Democracy cannot find a Democrat able to beat Tayler for congress they're anxious to have some Republican nominated whom they think they can beat.

TIS A PITY.

'Tis a pity that the anti-spit ordinance did not embrace the prohibiting of expectorating upon the sidewalks or pavements of the city, and the heaviest kind of a penalty should be inflicted, by ordinance, upon the fiend who throws banana peelings upon the sidewalks.

LOYAL FOR ONCE.

The Buffalo Commercial truthfully and tritely says: "John R. McLean's Cincinnati Enquirer is loval to the Democratic party this year because John R. is at the head of both newspaper and ticket. This is a coincidence that never happened before and will probably never happen again. It is a phenomenon that naturally excites attention and amusement in Ohio."

GROWTH SHOWN.

The poll of the new Fifth ward shows in a striking manner the tremendous growth of the East End district within the past few years. Even those most intimately acquaintanced with that portion of the city thought that in the creation of the new ward only one precinct would be required. It now appears that the Democratic poll records a vote of 404 in that district. As 500 votes entitles a ward to two precincts, it will probably require the establishment of another precinct in the East End before the spring city elections.

FOUR GRAND JURIES.

The grand juries of four counties, Columbiana, Stark, Carroll and Mahoning counties, in session for the October term, seem to have devoted unusual attention to violators of the liquor laws. Many indictments against saloonkeepers were returned in each county. Stark sentences violators to a fine of $50 and costs and 10 days in the workhouse. Columbiana has sentenced one to a fine of $35 and 10 days in the county jail. Mahoning imposes a fine according to circumstances adduced. Carroll county, where Judge Taylor presides, inflicts a heavy fine. The combination of fine and imprisonment seems to fit the case most closely, and, if anything, the imposition of the limit in the way of a workhouse sentence is preferable in its effects to the limit in a fine. Fines don't worry the average saloonkeeper much. Familiarity has bred contempt. Familiarity with the interior of a workhouse cell may have a more salutary ef fect as far as restraining future violations is concerned.

Slot Machine Indictments.

Mahoning county grand jury returned 78 indietments, 64 of which were against saloonkeepers who operated slot machines. The saloonkeepers have announced that they will form a combination to fight the cases, in hopes of clogging the machinery of the courts.

NOW READY FOR BUSINESS

American Laundry to be Started Wednesday.

PLANT

Liverpool Labor Will Be Employed and Unionism Adhered to-Machinery of the Most Modern Design-A Well Known Superintendent Has Been Secured to Supervise All Work-East End's Latest Industry.

After many weeks of waiting the American Laundry company will be ready for business next Wednesday morning. The company is composed entirely of local men and they have spared no expense in giving East Liverpool one of the finest equipped laundries in the state.

When the company was formed an option was secured on the Chambers building on First avenue, and several days afterward it was purchased. The building has been remodeled throughout. and the foundations have been greatly strengthened. All the machinery was installed during the week, and is of the most modern design.

The laundry will be under the direct supervision of Mr. W. J. Carley, for many years one of the righthand men of Brace Brothers' laundry, of Pittsburg, noted far and wide for its work. By securing this gentleman the American Laundry company should be commended, for the work they will turn out will surpass any now done in this

The wagon the company has secured is a handsome piece of workmanship. It is indeed beautiful. It will make house to house, hotel and telephone calls commencing Wednesday morning. The people who will be employed at the plant are all residents of Liverpool, as it is the intention of the new company to employ nothing but home labor, which will be run under strict union principles

The officers of the American Laundry company are: J. A. Swaney, president and secretary-treasurer, and J. J. Van-Fossan, vice president, two of the most popular men of the city. The telephone number is 310-3.

Street Railway Franchises to Be Accepted.

THE WORK WILL BE RUSHED

And a Portion of the Line Will Be Completed This Fall--The Improvements Will Cost About $50,000 and No Foreign Labor Will Be Employed In the Work.

The street railway company have not yet decided whether they will accept the franchises given at the last meeting of council, but will do so early next

Mr. Healy, when asked in regard to the matter, stated that he could not tell whether the company would accept the franchises until a meeting of the stockholders was held, but that the franchises were in the main satisfactory to the company.

Work would begin on the Market and Third street lines, he said, just as soon as the franchises were accepted, and the completion of the line would depend largely upon the success of the company in securing the necessary material, but that they expected to get it finished before cold weather.

He stated that the improvements would cost in the neighborhood of $50,-000. In regard to the Calcutta and Lisbon street lines he had nothing to say, but gave out the impression that they would not be built this fall. There will be no foreign labor employed in constructing the lines.

There are now 90 hands in the employ of the Salem China company. A number of employes will be added next week. Two kilns were fired Thursday.

The jiggermen of Trenton, who were really the greatest objectors to the uniform price list, are, after much deliberation and consideration, beginning to take to it more kindly than when it was first proposed, and the local meetings have been better attended and much more interest manifested. The late visit of President A. S. Hughes to Tren ton is responsible for this clearer view of a question that is slowly but surely forging to the front and soon will be a very important factor in the trade both east and west.-Commoner and Glass Worker.

It is said that H. G. White, of this city, will soon return to Peoria.

China, Glass and Lamps says: "Holiquantities, and the fall trade demand is larger than it has been for years. On the whole, the pottery trade is in excel lent shape, and while prices rule somewhat lower than wage and material advances justify, domestic makers thus far very wisely refrained from undue price advancement so as not to stimulate the influx of foreign ware."

Some of the potteries have booked orders for delivery next year.

The Crockery Journal states that nearly all the potteries have orders on their books for full 60 days and the traveling men are all being called in.

The printers of Trenton have organ-

Mayer brothers are building a new decorating kiln at Beaver Falls, Pa.

"The sale of small novelties, odd plates, dishes, bowls, berries, chocolates. trays, vases and ornamental bric a-brac has wonderfully increased during the past year, and many potteries are paying special attention to this class of goods, an immense amount of which is still imported, for the simple reason that the foreign makers have been leaders in this line for a century, and until recently their long dominion was not disputed by domestic potters. President McKinley Welcomed by Colored Men.

INCIDENT OF HIS WESTERN TRIP.

Went Out of His Way to Accept the Iuvitation to Attend Quinn Chapel and Talk to His Colored Fellow-Citizens. What the President Said and How His Remarks Were Received.

An effort is being made through Mr. McLean's newspaper to convince the colored voters of Ohio that President McKinley has not been friendly to

When has an American president ever shown the thorough appreciation of his colored fellow-citizens which was manifested by President McKinley last Sunday in Chicago? The president had been greeted with an ovation in the magnificent auditorium which is probably the finest hall in America. When he returned to his hotel he was called upon by a delegation from the Men's Sunday club of Quinn chapel, an organization of representative colored men, and accepted their invitation to address them. He was driven at once to the chapel. In his party were Bishops Fallows and Arnett and Rev. A. J. Carey, pastor of Quinn chapel, and others.

The audience greeted his entrance by rising and singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." The president was introduced by Rev. Dr. Carey, who said in

Dear Christian friends, you can appreclate the fact that the president of the greatest nation on earth, with its vast population of 72,000,000 souls and its unbounded territory stretching from the virgin soil of the Occident to the far-away lands of the Orient, has comparatively no time that he may truly call his own. For this reason we feel more than honored because of the fact that he has turned aside on this blessed Sabbath afternoon to look in upon us, to grace our worship with his presence and speak, if but a few words, to a part of the most loyal and patriotic of all American citizens. I need not assure you that it is the deep and abiding interest that our president has in every race and nationality that forms a part of our cosmopolitan republic that has caused him to be present with us In our worship at this hour.

We are glad to have him with us, first, because it evidences to the world his interest in us as a people and his belief in the possibilities that lie before us; secondly, because we desire this opportunity to say that the spirit of Crispus Attucks and of the black regulars who fought at Bunker Hill, Fort Pillow and Fort Donelson; at San Juan and El Caney, is the spirit whose sa cred fires burn within the breasts of 10,000. 000 ebony-hued devotees at the shrine of Columbia.

Speaking for the 40,000 negroes of Chicago, as well as for the millions scattered throughout the realms of this mighty republic, . do not hesitate to say that to a man the negroes feel that our war with Spain, in the sight of God and man, was a righteous war. Moreover, the vast majority of us feel that wherever the folds of Old Glory have been unfurled, whether it be in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii or the faraway Philippines, there let the starry emblem continue to wave, at least until stable and satisfactory governments have been established.

There is no man living in whom the colored people of this country have more confidence than in our honored guest, President Wiliam McKinley, the Christian statesman, whose crystalline character, incalculable worth and masterly statesmanship enable him not only to righteously expand the borders of our country, but have also endeared him to the hearts of 70,000 liberty-loving Americans,

With pardonable pride and profoundest pleasure I have the honor to introduce to you the greatest president of the greatest nation on earth, the Hon. William Mc-Kinley.

The president said in response:

My friends, it gives me very great pleasure to meet with you on this memorial day. The noblest sentiment of the human heart after love of God is love of country, and that includes love of home, the cornerstone of strength and safety. Your race has demonstrated its patriotism by its sacrificesits love of the flag by dying for it. That is the greatest test of fidelity and loyalty. The nation has appreciated the valor and patriotism of the black men of the United States. They not only fought in Cuba, but in the Philippines, and they are carrying the flag as the symbol of liberty and hope to an oppressed people.

This is but one of many incidents which show the broad interest of the president in the colored men as well as in all classes of our citizenship. Does any colored voter in Ohio suppose that Grover Cleveland when president would ever have gone out of his way to visit a colored chapel? Would John R. McLean, who had to have a special stead of riding in the regular car, do so if he were governor, much less if he were president?

The McLean newspaper agitation is to secure votes only. He cares no more for the colored man than his father did when the Enquirer editorially condemned President Lincoln for issuing the emancipation proclamation.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 15, "Lost Opportunities"-Text. Jer. viii, 20; Math. xxiii, 37-39; Heb. xii, 17.

"The harvest is past, the summer is ended and we are not saved.' We are subject to circumstances often beyond our control, and our safety depends at many times in seizing the favorable opportunity. In a burning building life may depend on instant action, and we must decide to run and leave all valuables lest in stopping we lose life itsels.

Only in religious things men seem to fancy they can disregard all dangers, scorn all warnings, run all risks, and at any time turn from the evil and be saved. No error can be greater. All times and surroundings are not equally favorable to establishment in virtue and righteousness. Increased indulgence of wrong makes it more difficult to ever overcome and reduces our power of recovery. Autumn has fine, warm days, but he who neglects to sow in spring and hoe in summer gathers no crop in autumn.

Shakespeare in "Julius Cæsar" makes Brutus truly say:

There is a tide in the affairs of men Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; Omitted, all the voyage of their life Is bound in shallows and in miseries

If a duty is neglected, the equal chance rarely occurs again for doing it. If another opportunity does come, the impulse to action is less strong because of the first refusal. We get into habits which are hard to break. With our habits we acquire tastes and also lose relish for the opposite. In early life religious truth appeals peculiarly to us. Imagination, ambition, memory and reason all make for the good and pure and are uncorrupted. It is easy to become a follower of Jesus and to grow strong in knowledge and practice of Every fresh refusal to bring all powers of the person into obedience to the Master takes from the soul some of its power to know God and become like Him. If persisted in too long, the pow er of the human to become godly may be utterly lost. Spiritual powers may become as atrophied as an arm held aloft may after years become fixed in paralysis and immovable. A man may in such a condition know his loss and regret it without power of any kind to recover from it. Here lies the difference between a Peter and a Judas.

Catching and Keeping.

In watching a baseball game we have often seen a good play spoiled by one who has caught the ball failing to hold it. In fishing we have known the greater part of the catch to spoil by not being cared for or salted down.

Many young people start in the Christian life, but there is failure somewhere, for they soon fall out and become as worldly as before. When once committed to Christ, there should be all the more watchfulness over the young on the part of older Christians. It is not criticism they need nor good advice half as much as sympathetic interest and something to do. There is more in keeping than in catching. It seems almost as if some churches and pastors delight in revival services and conversions less because of the salvation of the services than in the "fun of catching them," as with sportsmen who fish not for the profit of the catch as much as for the enjoyment. But we are more than sportsmen. We are workmen. We must get and then learn to keep what we get.

"Pernicious Altogether."

Is there any locality where cigarettes are not smoked? If so, we have not heard of it. Even Sunday school boys and possible Epworth Leaguers are addicted to their abuse. It cannot be called their use.

Here comes the supreme court of Tennessee and condemns them in language which, if used in the pulpit, would by some be called extreme. The court sustains the law forbidding the sale or giving away of cigarettes in that state as constitutional and says

"We think cigarettes are not legitimate articles / of commerce, because street car to go from Columbus to Wes- | they are wholly noxious and deleterious

terville, eight miles, the other day in- [to health. Their use is always narmini. never beneficial. They possess no virtue, but are inherently bad, and bad only They find no true commendation or merit or usefulness in any sphere. On the contrary, they are widely condemned as pernicious altogether Beyond question their every tendency is toward the impairment of physical health and mental vigor.'

Consolidation.

Industrial affairs tend rapidly toward concentration in trusts. Properly handled, this tendency may be prost valua-

Religious work is tending toward cooperation if not consolidation. It makes for economy of effort and avoids waste. It need not arouse pride or antagonism. It has been of value in many ways to make the topics for League, Christian Endeavor and Baptist union uniform. The same is true of international Sunday school lessons. Uniformity has aided the publishing houses to give better helps and has stimulated study, inter change of thought and new investiga

Tempted again! Is there no earthly height The soul may reach above the realms of sin, Beyond the mists which cloud the heavenly light, And where temptation cannot enter in?

Tempted again! Alas, how vain the thought That mortal feet could tread a way so sure, Where all the cunning arts of evil wrought Fail in their power to charm with subtle lure.

Think not to tread a secret, chosen path, And shut out weakness, sorrow, pain and sin; Go face the tempter till he pales with wrath, Seeing the victory that he may not win.

Tempted again! But, oh, how sweet the thought, Beyond Thy strength temptation cannot be! He who was tempted knows how sin is wrought, Beyond thy strength He will not suffer thee. -Leila S. Frost.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 15-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—Lost opportunities.—Jer. viii, 20; Math. xxiii, 37.39; Heb. xii, 17.

Several phases of opportunities and their loss are presented to us in the topical references. They should make a serious and lasting impression upon us because of the greatness of our opportunities today.

1. The greater the opportunity the more serious its loss (Jer. viii, 20). "The harvest is passed, the summer is ended, and we are not saved." The Jews had their opportunity to be saved, but they rejected salvation, and the kingdom was lost, and the seriousness of the loss was tremendously magnified because of the priceless value of that which was lost-the life and well being of a nation. To lose an opportunity that involves little is perhaps of small moment, but to lose an opportunity that involves the destiny of a nation or the eternal destiny of an immortal soul, is a matter of the most stupendous importance. Our most valuable opportunity is for salvation in Christ. Let us see to it that the harvest does not pass without our being saved.

2. Opportunity brings responsibility and, if lost, places the blame upon ourselves (Math. xxiii, 37-39). Christ had been willing to gather the people of Jerusalem to Himself, to protect them as a hen doth her brood, but Jerusalem would not. The opportunity to be saved placed the responsibility of salvation upon the people, and when they rejected it and doom came they alone were to blame. The fact that God gives us opportunities relieves Him of the responsibility and places it upon us, and if we fail we can pass no censure upon God, but must bear the brunt of failure ourselves. This serious fact should inspire us to seize and use every opportunity of life for being good and doing good and for making the salvation of our souls absolutely certain.

3. Lost opportunities are irrevocable (Heb. xii, 17). Esau had the opportunity of inheriting the blessing of the firstborn son of Isaac. He lightly esteemed it and rejected it, and "when he would have inherited the blessing he was rejected, for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears." It was too late. He had lost his opportunity. Another possessed the blessing, and it could not be returned to Esau. But undoubtedly the blessings here do not typify the salvation of the soul, but rather opportunities for service. But in the parable of the virgins we have an illustration of an opportunity for salvation which, once lost, never returned. This is the saddest phase of opportunities. Once gone, they never return. The past is irrevocable. We may repent our loss, we may mourn for our opportunities, but no repentance, no mourning, will ever recall them. How important, therefore. that no opportunities should be lost!

Bible Readings.—Ps. xxxii, 6; Eccl. xii, 1; Isa. lv, 6, 7; Math. v, 25; xxv. 1-13; Luke xiii, 24, 25; John vii, 32-34 viii, 21; ix, 4; I Cor. xv, 58; II Cor. vi, 1, 2; Heb. iv. 1-11.

To Love Them.

Every relation to mankind, of hate or scorn or neglect, is full of vexation and men but to love them; to contemplate their virtues with admiration, their faults with pity and forgiveness. Task all the ingenuity of your mind to devise some other thing, but you can never find it. To hate your adversary will not help you; to kill him will not help you; nothing within the compass of the universe can help you but to love him. But let that love flow out upon all around you, and what could harm you? How many a knot of mystery and misunderstanding would be untied by one word spoken in simple and confiding truth of heart! How many a solitary place would be made glad if love were there, and how many a dark dwelling would be filled with light!-Orville Dewey.

Think of God.

Just turn from the world a moment and think of God. Do so especially when you are anxious and worn with care. Turn to Him and leave your tronble with Him. Many of them will shrink and look foolishly small when His light falls on them. You will find, like the man in the fairy tale, that the devil has been leading you on by making you believe that withered turnips were gold. Turn to God in your moments of joy and gratitude too. Share them with Him. Apply the social instinct to the best companion of all-to your Father. -Watchman.

Rally to the Work.

Vacation season is over. Now comes the most beautiful season of the whole year for work in many parts of the land Plan to begin the fall campaign promptly. Hot weather and absence of many people from home have prevented vigorous and aggressive work during the summer Cooler weather and increased vigor of mind and body should be utilized in League work. Have a "rally evening," with welcome home addresses, reminiscences of vacation days and plans of work for coming days. Collect arrearages of dues, get the reading course in shape, start anew the mercy and help visitation and relief work, enthuse with new life the prayer meeting, hunt up the newcomers to town and enlist them in the active work, fill up the empty seats at the preaching service, get the wheels a-going briskly for earnest, forward effort.

Unwise Seeking.

An old lady noted for her sour az.d crabbed disposition suddenly became the direct opposite. Asked the cause of the change, she said "I have all my life been striving for a contented mind without getting it. Now I have concluded to sit down contented without She had at last learned that happiness never comes to those who search for it. Seek right, and if you succeed in being right you will be happy

Our Worst Fault.

As Christians our worst failures come not from lack of knowledge of what to do and how to do it, not from lack of ability or opportunity. We know enough and are able enough to do much better than most of us do. Our lack is more one of disposition, selfishness, indolence, love of ease, amounting in some cases to sheer laziness and carelessness for others. Self denial is the

The Home and the Church.

There are two kingdoms of which peace is the sovereign—the home and the church. No one should ever throw the pebbles of discord into those waters. Why one should remain in either when his presence gives offense is a species of martyrdom we cannot understand. Discord is antagonistic to the one purpose of church and home life. To fight for a position in either is a battle to which victory cannot come. God made the world wider than our necessities demand. The margin belongs to those who are always better than their neighbors or friends. - Presbyterian Journal.

The Democratic artists of Mr. Mc-Lean's Enquirer have presented a very nice picture of Admiral Dewey and Admiral Schley coming in contact, and treating each other very affectionately. There isn't any doubt of the warm friendship of these gentlemen. The Enquirer's picture is explained by an inscription to the effect that Admiral Schley was received with great enthusiasm, though "assigned to a position far in the rear." It seems to be the idea of The Enquirer people that the administration managed the procession in the city of New York torment. There is nothing to do with and tried to shove Admiral Schley aside. The authorities of the city of New York are Democratic-in fact, the rulers of the city are Tammany men. If Schley was sighted it was they and not President McKinley who slighted him. But as a matter of fact, he was

> The people of the United States are gradually getting to understand the real facts about the present insurrection in the island of Luzon. This insurrection is confined to the Tagalos, a tribe numbering about 1,560,000 people, and inhabiting about one-half of the island of Luzon. The insurrection finds no sympathizers among the other 9,000,000 people in the Philippines, who are all friends of the United States and openly declare that they will never tolerate the rule of Aguinaldo and the Tagals. They are anxious for American protection.

The Bryanites of the west who are looking for a substitute for the 16 to 1 issue and are experimenting with antiexpansion are on the wrong track The people of the west are too prosperous to be fooled any more by free silver, and they have too much to gain when America's foothold is secured in the Orient to sympathize with the anti-expansion crowd. BUYING CROWDS PLANTS.

Some Works Filled Beyond Their Capacity-Wheat Exports Larger Than Last Year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade issued today said in part:

Industrial conditions could hardly be better. After many months of such extraordinary buying that its continuance seemed impossible, even larger buying still crowds producing works in most lines beyond their capacity. The iron furnaces are producing 11,000 tons weekly more than ever before, 278,615 tons Oct. 1, and yet the actual consumption in manufacture reduced unsold stocks in September by 27,380 tons, while the demand runs far ahead into next year for many products. After the great buying last week, Bessemer pig rises to $24 at Pittsburg, with No. 1 anthracite at Philadelphia and No. 1 local coke at Chicago both quoted at $23.50 and buyers paying premiums for early deliveries according to their needs. The finished products still advance, eastern bar to $2.15 and tank plates to $3.10, and the average of percentages to prices of Jan. 1, 1887, is now 100.64 for finished products and 108.6 for pig. In some lines, however, production has so far gained that works are beginning to look for orders to cover next year.

The demand for wood a goods is fairly large and prices are wen sustained, though not further andvanced. In goods of petter grades there is some uncertainty. Sales of wool are smaller, only 7,473,300 pounds for the week at the three markets without further ad-

Wheat exports are still larger than from the great crop of last year, Atlantic, flour included, having been 7,351,-990 busnels in two weeks, against 6, The Second street railway crossing 730,448 busnels, against 1,375,034 busnels • s last year. The western receipts have been only 14,518 892 bushels, against 20,790,495 bushels last year, but the course of prices is not calculated to encourage a big movement, for after starting at 75.37 cents, and falling to 75 cents, the market closed at 75 cents, with December options unchanged.

Corn receipts 13,789,749 bushels, against 11,047,258 bushels in two weeks of last year, with exports of 6,177,148 bushels, against 4,367,598 bushels last year, show a supply and a foreign demand which might well affect the wheat market to some extent.

Failures for the first week of October were $1,687,068 in amount, manufacturing $387,914 and trading $408,599. Failures for the week have been 164 in the United States, against 205 last year, and 27 in Canada, against 25 last year.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH JUBILEE | The First

Sessions Opened at Cincinnati - About 10,000 Expected to Take Communion on Sunday.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—The Christian churches or Disciples of Christ began here the jubilee of their organized missions. This denomination, which began 75 years ago under the leadership of Dr. Alex. Campbell and has had such distinguished adherents as President Garfield and Hon. Jeremiah S. Black is now more than 1,000,000 strong. Three-fourths are in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Kentucky and Kansas. They are notably an active denomination in evangelistic work. Over 100,000 converts were added the present year.

This jubilee convention is represented by three missionary societies—the Christian Women's Board of Missions, ciety and the Foreign Christian Missionary society. It is in no sense a legislative body and never deals in trials. Delegates and visitors are here from foreign countries.

Among the pioneer preachers are Rev. C. L. Loos of Kentucky, Rev. H. Pritchard of Indiana, Rev. Robert Moffett of Ohio and Rev. W. T. Moore of Missouri. This year has been highly successful in missionary contributions. the total being over $500,000.

The Christian Women's Board of Missions began its sessions with the address of Mrs. O. A. Burgess, president. Miss Lois A. Wnite, secretary, presented the annual report.

Mrs. O. A. Burgers of Indianapolis called the woman's board to order. The report of the secretary, Miss Lois A. White, showed that over $100,000 had been raised the past year for missions. The report of Mrs. Helen Moses on the Bible chair movement was loudly applauded. It is the purpose to establish such a chair for English Bible instruction at every state university. Prof. Coler, who occupies this chair at Ann Arbor, Mich., made an address.

The notable feature of the Christian woman's board of foreign missions was the memorial service at the Richmond Street church, where the society was organized 25 years ago. Mrs. C. N. Pearre of Indiana, who was the leader in the organization, gave a touching address of reminiscences. Miss Jennie R. Errett of Ohio, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Isaac Errett, read an address on "Leaves From Unwritten History." Many of the charter members were present.

So large were the crowds that two Jverflow meetings were held.

A feature of the jubilee convention will be the communion service Sunday afternoon, provision for which has been made in three of the largest auditoriums of the city, and in which 10,000 persons are expected to participate.
